CHURCH NOTES.

The Pastors of the Various Churches of the Village are invited to Hand in Church Items Each Week.

There will be services in the People's Temple next Sunday morning when Mrs. L. J. Meyers will occupy the pulpit. In the evening no services will be held.

There will be regular services at the Methodist street Church of Christ next Sunday. Rev. J. S. Baum will preach both morning and evening and will be assisted by singing evangelist R. A. Stokes. The public invited.

Miss Barbour, of California, will occupy the Presbyterian pulpit morning and evening next Sunday.

Sunday services at the M. E. church next Sunday as follows:—Morning, sermon, "What was found in the Manger?" Special singing. Evening, will be song service of anthems, solos and special hymns.

The Sunday school Christmas exercises at the M. E. church will be held Monday evening, when the cantata, "Kris Kringle," will be rendered. Everybody welcome to this service. Come and enjoy it.

At the M. P. church a program of exercises by the children will be held in the auditorium on Monday evening. A tree will be placed in the room below, decorated and filled with everything children could wish for, and the presents will be distributed after the program.

A short mixed program consisting of recitations and music will be given at the Presbyterian church on Christmas eve. There will also be the Christmas tree, well laden. It is expected of course that Santa Claus himself will be present to see that his gifts reach the right ones.

Christmas eve will not be observed at the Disciple church this year.

Next Tuesday is Christmas. Auction at 10-cent feed barn tomorrow.

Many are getting ready to make good resolutions.

Remember Santa Claus comes to Yale Monday afternoon, Dec. 24.

A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all our subscribers.

Harry White will open the Palmer skating rink on Jones street on Saturday.

Sunday was the first sunshiny day in more than a week. It was a beautiful day indeed.

Santa Claus has something to give all who come to Yale, Monday afternoon, Dec. 24.

Send The Expositor to an absent relative or friend as a Christmas present. Nothing nicer.

The turkey market in Yale on Monday and Tuesday was flooded with the feathered tribe.

Blanche M. Waldorff writes us from Hunter's Creek ordering the Expositor sent to her address.

In a few days you will be going around feeling as though you had had your pockets picked.

If you have a turkey that you are saving for Christmas, you had better put him in one of the banks.

A Christmas Ball is advertised to take place at Laidlaw's hall, Melvin on Tuesday evening, December 25.

Your horse would feel much better in the 10-cent feed barn than it looks tied on the street these cold days or nights.

Members and newly-elected officers of Brockway Lodge No. 316, F. & A. M., should remember that installation will take place Dec. 27.

A sprig of mistletoe has been given us by Mrs. V. A. Lacy, a box of which was sent her from Florida. The leaves and berries are very pretty.

Geo. McIntyre has on display in his warerooms the latest improved Imperial Tongueless Disc Harrow and invites the farmers to call and look it over.

The publisher of The Expositor is not so particular what he gets for Christmas. Should Santa Claus fill our old sock with back subscriptions we wouldn't kick.

Patrick McMahon will open the Eagle House at Melvin tomorrow Saturday. Everything is in readiness and it is expected that a flourishing business will be transacted in the new hostelry.

Ed. Sheehy, stock buyer of Yale, asks the Expositor to say to the farmers that it will pay them to dehorn their cattle. Drovers will not only pay a higher price, but the cattle are much better for it.

A mass meeting was held at Melvin Tuesday night. It was voted unanimously that a bill be prepared and presented to the next legislature at Lansing to incorporate into a village. Here's hoping.

Taxpayers of the city of Yale are hereby notified that the tax roll is now in the hands of City Treasurer McKeith at the First National Bank where you can pay your taxes any time between now and the 10th of January.

It is growing to be quite the thing to send The Expositor for a year to an absent relative or friend as a Christmas present. More have already been sent that way this year than in any previous year in the history of this paper.

Wellington Beaver, of Bay City, is new manager of Fred J. Brueck's harness shop in place of Edward Clinton. Mr. Beaver is a bright young fellow, enterprising and industrious in his work and The Expositor welcomes him to our midst.

Arthur Heath will hold an auction sale at his premises 4 miles east and 1/4 mile south of Yale on Monday, Dec. 24, 1906. He will sell all his threshing outfit, also farm stock and implements. This is a bonafide sale. Sale to commence at 1 p. m. sharp. G. W. Bell, auctioneer.
